

Checklist to an Interview

1. Oversharing- Don't get too personal. Share information like marital status, and family in-details background, when asked.
2. Negative Words about previous/ present company
3. Overconfidence- It may look like arrogance.
4. Irrelevant information- Don't leave the topic while answering interview questions.
5. Lacking specificity- Giving short and crisp, specific responses is always appreciated.
6. Always give examples related to the job, showing your strengths.
7. Don't brag/ exaggerate while speaking about your strengths.

List of 50 Strengths That Can be used during an interview
Adaptability	Customer service orientation	Interpersonal skills	Perseverance	Risk taking
Analytical thinking	Decision making	Leadership	Persuasion	Self-awareness
Attention to detail	Dependability	Learning agility	Positive attitude	Self-discipline
Business acumen	Emotional intelligence	Listening	Presentation skills	Strategic thinking
Clear communication	Empathy	Logical thinking	Problem solving	Strong work ethic
Collaborative	Entrepreneurial spirit	Motivation	Project management	Team player
Commitment to quality	Flexibility	Multitasking	Quick learner	Technical skills
Conflict resolution	Goal-oriented	Negotiation	Resilience	Time management
Creative problem-solving	Initiative	Organization	Resourcefulness	Trustworthy
Critical thinking	Innovation	Patience	Results-oriented	Visionary

8. While describing your weakness, Don't mention that you are flawless/ perfect. Also, don't mention any point that can directly affect your capabilities.
9. Don't speak negatively about other candidates. E.g. " I am more qualified than others"
10. Avoid assumptions. Don't assume what the company is looking for in a candidate. Instead do your research.
11. Avoid saying " I don't know " when you don't have any answers. Always say " I am not aware at the moment. I will research and get back to you shortly"

12. Speak realistic goals, avoid saying statements like “ I want to become CEO in a year/ I want to be in your chair”
13. While speaking about your goals, avoid speaking only about your self-goals, rather speak about your future plans that will help the company as well.
14. Avoid discussing hobbies that are too personal, controversial, or time-consuming. Better to speak about hobbies that can be related to the job you are applying for.
15. Avoid liners like "I just need a job", "I heard the pay is great", and "I don't know much about the company, but it seems like a good opportunity":
I'm not sure, but I'm just looking for a change"
16. Dress appropriately- grooming is important. One should look sharp, and clean and dress professionally.
17. Maintaining correct body posture while giving an interview is important. Leaning on the desk, not having proper eye contact with the interviewer, fumbling, shaking of legs, biting of nails, etc. should be strictly avoided.
18. Always be on time. It's advisable to arrive 10-15 mins early.
19. Carrying a hard-cover resume is essential.
20. Showing enthusiasm is very important throughout the interview. Nervousness shouldn't be visible on the face.
21. Always ask relatable questions to the interviewer if they say “ Do you have any questions?”. Here one can ask about their performance feedback.
22. Don't discuss the salary too early, until the interviewer asks.
23. Avoid cliché words: Don't keep repeating phrases like “ You know”, “ Also”, “ And” etc multiple times.
24. Avoid Hindi fillers.
25. Be confident while speaking and presenting yourself.